The Comptroller and Auditor General sets out her Strategy and Audit Plan for 2022-25

The Comptroller and Auditor General issues the Jersey Audit Office
Strategy 2022-25 and the Audit Plan 2022-25

Comptroller and Auditor General (C&AG), Lynn Pamment, has today, 7 January 2022, published two documents: the Jersey Audit Office Strategy 2022-25 and Audit Plan 2022-25.

The Jersey Audit Office Strategy outlines the strategy and ambitions of the C&AG and the Jersey Audit Office (JAO) for the next four years. During the period of the strategy the ambitions of the C&AG and JAO will remain constant, to:

- be a high performing audit organisation
- support effective scrutiny and accountability
- make a difference; and
- build a better organisation.

The Strategy sets out the JAO's ambitions and values, and the key activities planned for the period to deliver those. It includes Key Performance Indicators that the C&AG will use to report publicly on progress through her annual reports.

The Audit Plan sets out the audit work that the C&AG proposes to undertake in each of the years 2022-25 and the audit objectives to which the work relates (internal control, value for money and corporate governance).

The Audit Plan includes an element of follow up in each year of recommendations made by the C&AG in previous years. This follows on from the C&AG report on Tracking Comptroller and Auditor General Recommendations issued in December 2021. It also includes a continued focus on transparency and best practice in Annual Reporting following the publication of her report Annual Reporting and accompanying Good Practice Guide issued in November 2021.

Lynn Pamment said:

“Independent external audit is an important part of the process of accountability for the use of public money. It provides assurance on the management of public funds and on corporate governance. The role of independent audit is even more important in these extraordinary times as we see huge pressures on public services, high levels of risk and uncertainty and substantial increases in public expenditure.

As we work through the delivery of our Strategy, we will report publicly through our Annual Report on the progress we are making. We will also review and refine our Strategy on at least an annual basis and the C&AG Audit Plan on at least a quarterly basis.”
